Hotel

TAURITO PRINCESS

Report presentation

Princess Hotels & Resorts is a hotel company with a family vocation. Located in first-class tourist destinations, we work according to a sustainable management model that has a positive impact on the different work areas.

In the tourism sector, sustainability is essential in order not to compromise the development of future generations, especially in the Canary Islands because of their insularity. Therefore we strive to improve and in 2014 we certified 2 of our hotels in ISO14001 environment. Subsequently, we are committed to endorsing our hotels in terms of sustainability by adhering to the Travelife sustainable tourism certification.

The aim of this document is to provide clear information on the hotel's sustainability performance for 2019 and to set future goals that we want to achieve. Consequently, we are publishing this Sustainability Report on the company's website, so that it is generally known.

The different sections of this report will show the actions that have been carried out in the hotel, expressing the results in the most graphic way possible.

We sincerely believe that our efforts in the different areas of sustainability (economic, environmental and social) is the way forward in the Canarian tourism sector.

Environment

Water use

In the south of Gran Canaria, water is a precious asset. The island is bathed by trade winds that discharge moisture from the sea as rain. These rains usually remain in the northern area leaving a drier climate in the southern part of the island.

Efficient measures applied at the hotel for water savings:

- Double discharge buttons on toilets.
- Single lever taps that facilitate flow regulation.
- Efficient showers and sinks with atomizers.
- Water production from sea water that reduce the pressure in local aquifer.
- Native plants with low water consumption.
- Preventive maintenance of the facilities to prevent leaks and ensure their proper functioning.

Directions to our guests

- Change of towels only if they are on the floor.
- Good consumer practices.

Awareness and training to our team:

- Our staff receives training focused on minimizing water expenditure.
- Code of Good Practices adapted to each department.

Hotel drinking water consumption in L / stay:

Water consumption per stay increased by 4% in 2019. This increase is mainly due to 2 factors, the lower number of stays and the leak located in the pool.

Energy use

Energy consumption entails the release of CO₂ into the atmosphere, thus contributing to climate change.

That is why we apply measures for its reduction in the Hotel:

- Replacement of the luminaire with LED and low consumption.
- We have acquired efficient equipment to ensure the greatest comfort to our customers with rational energy consumption.
- Devices for automatic disconnection of air conditioning if customers open balcony doors.
- Creation of an R&D department that works on the development of controls to improve energy efficiency (temperature control, ignition schedules, etc.).
- Cold opening taps for saving hot water.

Directions to our guests:

- Indications of good consumption practices.

Awareness and training to our team:

- Our staff receives training focused on minimizing energy expenditure.
- Code of Good Practices.

Hotel energy consumption in kWh / stay (counting all energy sources):

Energy consumption per stay increased in 2019. In detail the hotel has a higher electricity consumption because in 2019 the weather was warmer and the air conditioning plants worked longer. In addition, food services have been increased (theme restaurant and events). In return, LPG consumption was reduced thanks to better heat recovery from air conditioning plants.

Waste management

The correct waste management is essential in an island system such as Gran Canaria.

In the Hotel we apply numerous measures to improve its efficiency. We always follow the 3 R rule. Reducing is the best way not to generate a waste.

- Product purchase in bulk and in large format to reduce packaging waste.
- Consumption reduction of dangerous chemical products through the use of certified organic products.
- Reduction of plastic bags by removing them from the rooms and common areas.

- Reusable bottles for cleaning products.
- Use of reusable cups in the pool areas.
- Refillable gel dispensers in bathrooms and showers.
- We opt for suppliers that make use of reusable containers.

- Waste separation facilities for subsequent management and recycling.
- Regulation for the treatment of any dangerous or special product.
- Hazardous waste manager authorized by the Canary Islands government

Directions to our guests:

- Recycling bins in common areas.

- Information on good practices in the directory and at the hotel reception.

Awareness and training to our team:

- Our staff receives training focused on reduction, reuse and recycling.
- Code of Good Practices.

Carbon footprint

The activities of the hotel sector generate gas emissions into the atmosphere, causing greenhouse effect and climate change.

In Princess we want to reduce the impact we generate in the environment by reducing this footprint in our hotels, which is why we have begun to calculate our carbon footprint.

What do we measure?

Direct emissions due to 2 factors: combustion of fossil fuels in the hotel and consumption of refrigerant gases.

Indirect emissions are due to hotel electrical energy consumption. The electrical production of the island is not 100% renewable, so it emits greenhouse gases. We take them into account!

Measures at the hotel to reduce emissions:

- Use of less polluting systems.
- Use of more efficient machinery and equipment.
- Preventive maintenance of equipment, improving its efficiency and prolonging its life, thus avoiding the manufacture of new materials.
- Change of refrigerant gases with others with a lower atmospheric heating potential (PCA).
- Bet on renewable energy.
- Code of good practices.
- Operational control to reduce consumption.
- Measurement of the carbon footprint of scope 1 (direct) and 2 (indirect energy) of the hotel.
- Commitment to reduce emissions.

Carbon footprint (Kg CO₂/ stay)

We continue working to reduce our CO₂ footprint with a reduction in 2019.

Natural areas

The protection of natural spaces with high ecological or landscape value is essential for its conservation.

We believe that the protection of these spaces is essential for the tourism sector, since it is up to the tourist to choose the Canary Islands as their destination.

The promotion to tourists of these spaces as well as the measures for their correct conservation is vital, as well as a differentiating element.

Taurito Princess hotel (red circle) has 4 Natura 2000 spaces nearby:

Natura 2000 is a European ecological network of biodiversity conservation areas.

Its purpose is to ensure the long-term survival of species and habitat types in Europe, contributing to stop the loss of biodiversity. It is the main instrument for nature conservation in the European Union.

Natura 2000 areas near the hotel are:

- Marine Strip of Mogán: Its declaration is due to the presence of natural habitats of interest and to the presence of interest species; Caretta caretta (loggerhead turtle) and Tursiops truncatus (bottlenose dolphin).

- Macizo de Tauro y Macizo de Tauro II: This monument is a voluminous structure, on the top of a larger massif, formed in the island first volcanic cycle. The floristic community of the area is constituted by two well-defined plant formations, cardonal-tabaibal in the lower areas and Pinus canariensis pine groves in the high areas linked to thickets. On the height of 400 m.s.n.m. isolated specimens of sabinas appear, an indicative species of the existence of a transition zone between the cardonal-tabaibal and the pine grove. The area is home to endemisms of interest such as Teline rosmarinifolia. In addition the space houses one of the few existing populations in Gran Canaria of Globularia salicina. The space was declared ZEPA by the presence along with the great spotted woodpecker, of the blue finch (Fringilla teydea polatzeki), but a census conducted in 1991 resulted in the absence of this last species in the area, possibly due to its decline.
- El nublo: Area that borders the sea, where knives and ravines formed by ancient geological materials (basaltic castings) alternate. Space with a very high conservation quality, due to the presence of an excellent representation of Euphorbia balsamifera and Euphorbia canariensis, and the high landscape value derived from the unique geomorphological composition.
